To whom it may concern,

This character reference is written on behalf of Darlene Marion Brothers.

I met Darlene in 1995 through a mutual client to whom we were both giving computer assistance. I know her to be a logical and honorable person through frequent exchanges of emails, telephone, calls and occasional face-to-face meetings. In those activities, we have shared: experiences, technical concepts, and philosophical ideas.

Outside her technical activities she is an adamant physical conditioning enthusiast, an ardent dancer, also running daily whenever the weather and her health permits. She is also careful in her eating habits, tending strongly towards health foods.

Darlene is of moderate and thoughtful demeanor; a splendid and trustworthy individual that I am glad to have in my circle of friends.

If any of this needs to be expanded on, or verified, I invite further communication in this matter, including face-to-face interviews. The times most convenient for me are regular business hours, as I am a retired research scientist.
